

Jürgen Schneider becomes new executive CFO of GHM GROUP

- Expansion of the management for strengthening sustained growth
- Proven financial and management expert
- Employee and practically orientated interpretation of the CFO role

Remscheid, 15/03/2022 – With effect from 15/03, Jürgen Schneider is appointed executive Chief Financial Officer (CFO) of GHM GROUP. GHM GROUP is among the leading specialists in the measurement and control technology sector.

With the expansion of its management, the company sets the course for a sustained and customer-oriented business development. The internationally experienced expert Jürgen Schneider is going to be responsible as CFO, in particular for the areas of finance and supplier-management as well as operational processes: "I stand for development and growth on the basis of a future strategy that is comprehensible in terms of content. It is part of my professed goals to make GHM GROUP market leader in relevant markets together with our employees. A trusting cooperation is very important to me. I believe that GHM GROUP is ideally positioned for the forthcoming tasks with the existing competences and skills of the colleagues."

In his former position as CFO and Head of Investor Relations at the All4Labels Global Packaging Group, Jürgen Schneider was instrumental in developing the company from national market leadership to world's number three. The 59-year-old graduate MBA has altogether more than 20 years of experience in operational and strategic positions in the areas of finance and management, among them several years in European and Asian countries abroad.

"With Jürgen Schneider, we have been able to win a personality with proven technical expertise and a team player as executive for GHM GROUP. He is an excellent addition to our management team with his experience in the definition and implementation of business strategies to keep pushing the successfully implemented strategy of GHM GROUP forward", says Dr. Axel Lamprecht, CEO of GHM GROUP.
